

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR DRINKING WATER

Creek Co RWD #7 Did Not Meet Treatment Requirements

Our water system recently violated a drinking water requirement. Although this was not an emergency, as our customers, you have a right to know what happened, what you should do, and what we did (are doing) to correct the situation.

Creek Co. RWD #7 Has Levels of Haloacetic Acids (HAA%) Above Drinking Water Standards

We routinely monitor the presence of drinking water contaminants. Testing results we received for indicated time period(s) show that our system exceeds the standard, or maximum contaminant level (MCL), for haloacetic acids. The standard or MCL for haloacetic acids is 0.060 mg/l. It is determined by averaging all the samples collected at each sampling location for the past 12 months. The level of haloacetic acids averaged at our systems locations was the following:

Monitoring Location	12 Month Period	Locational RAA
DBPMX-13617 W 186	Second Quarter 2025	0.098mg/L

What should I do? There is nothing you need to do unless you have a severely compromised immune system, have an infant or are elderly. These people may be at increased risk and should seek advice about drinking water from their health care professionals.

What does that mean? This is not an emergency. If it had been, you would have been notified immediately.

Some people who drink water containing haloacetic acids in excess of the MCL over many years may have an increased risk of getting cancer.

CORRECTIVE ACTION

What happened? What is being done? When will the violation be resolved? Upon receiving this notice two (2) days ago, I will have to reach out to a couple of consultants to see what the next step will be, the initial question I have is how did I fail the HAA5 and not fail TTHM?
